ABOUT QORI INTI AMAZONIAN HERBALS

QORI INTI (pronounced kon inti) comes from the ancient Quechua language of the Andean Highlands. It translates to "gold sun" and references a culture that worshipped the sun as the source of all life. All living things on this planet depend on the sun for sustenance. Without the constant rising of the sun everyday, we would lack the energy needed for survival. Like the sun, QORI INTI Amazonian Herbals comprises an essential part our daily nourishment. We strive to preserve the rich tradition of preparing Amazonian plant remedies in order to bring the wisdom and healing of the rainforest to you.

QORI INTI Amazonian Herbals produces high quality traditional plant-based remedies which are ethically and sustainably harvested with love and reverence from wildcrafted Master Plants of the Peruvian Amazon. Master Plants are called so for their amazing curative powers that work in a truly holistic way, addressing the physical, mental, emotional and spiritual levels of our being. These plants contain powerful spirits that embody the wisdom of the Amazon jungle. Our remedies are minimally processed to retain the spiritual elements that are vital to a complete holistic approach.

ABOUT THE PRODUCTS

Our herbal extracts are processed from fresh or dried wildcrafted plants and extracted in sugarcane alcohol. The advantages of these extracts is their ability to preserve active constituents, their long shelf life and almost immediate effect. Packaged in 50 ml. amber glass bottles.

SIRENITA is the mythical mermaid of the Amazon river. This herbal formula, made from a master plant that grows along the riverside, is used to ground ethereal energies in the earthly plane and facilitate dreamwork. In addition, its benefits include anti-inflammatory, depurative, stimulant and tonic properties.

WARMICITA is an endearing term for a woman, in the Quechua language. Likewise, this herbal formula is known to native midwives for its toning and cleansing actions on the female reproductive system. In addition, it is a blood cleanser, regulates menstruation and balances hormones. It is used to detoxify and protect the liver.

AMACHAY literally means to defend or protect in Quechua. This herbal formula has been used for millenia as a means of spiritual protection. It has a tonic effect on the physical body and is useful in treating colds, coughs and flu. It is antipyretic, antiviral, analgesic, antispasmodic and anti-inflammatory.

OTORONGO, or jaguar, is one of the most powerful creatures that inhabit the Amazon jungle. Like the jaguar, this herbal formula imparts strength, both physical and spiritual. Tribal healers employ this in cases of back or vertebral pain and arthritis. It has aphrodisiac, analgesic and anti-inflammatory properties.
